CORAM : MR.JUSTICE A.L.DAVE

Date of decision: 13/02/2002

ORAL JUDGEMENT

1. The Commissioner of Police, Surat City, Surat, passed an order on the 29th August 2001, in exercise of powers under Section 3(2) of the Gujarat Prevention of Anti-Social Activities Act, 1985 ("PASA Act" for short), detaining the petitioner under the provisions of the said

Act.

2. The detaining authority took into consideration six registered offences against the petitioner relating to vehicular theft and statements of two anonymous witnesses and branded him as a dangerous person. The detaining authority observed that the petitioner is required to be immediately prevented from pursuing his activities, which are detrimental to public order. The authority also considered the possibility of resorting to less drastic remedies and came to a conclusion that detention under PASA Act is the only remedy that can be resorted to.

3. Learned advocate Ms. Dutta appearing from Mr. Shaikh assails this order on the ground that when the order was passed, the detenu was in judicial custody. The detaining authority observed that though the detenu is in judicial custody, he may apply for bail and may obtain bail and, therefore, his immediate detention is required. This is not a legitimate ground for satisfying that the detenu is required to be detained. She, therefore, urged that the petition may be allowed.

4. Mr. D.P. Joshi, learned Assistant Government Pleader, has opposed this petition.

5. There is no dispute about the factual aspects. When the order of detention was passed, the detenu was in judicial custody. Anticipating an application for bail and grant of bail by a competent Court, the detaining authority deemed it necessary to detain the petitioner. In this regard, decision of the Apex Court in the case of Amritlal v. Union Government, AIR 2000 SC 3675 may be profitably referred to. It was observed that the satisfaction of the authority based on likelihood of detenu moving an application for bail is not sufficient. That likelihood of detenu moving an application for bail is different from likelihood to be released on bail and, therefore, the order of detention was quashed. This judgment would be squarely applicable to the facts of the present case. Hence, this petition deserves to be allowed.

6. In the result, the petition is allowed. The impugned order of detention dated the 29th August, 2001, passed against the detenu is hereby quashed and set aside. The detenu-Jayesh Mansukhbhai Mochi is ordered to be set at liberty forthwith, if not required in any other case. Rule is made absolute with no orders as to costs.

7. Direct service is permitted.
